ABBOTTSTOWN MAN ON REDS' PRISONER LIST

Pfc. Lloyd F. Shaffer, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McWilliams, Abbottstown, is among the soldiers listed by the Korean Communists as their prisoners, the Department of Defense has announced.

Shaffer, who attended Hanover high school and was employed by the Coulson Heel and Innersole company before entering the army August 1, 1949, is 21. He was sent to Korea, to serve with the 2nd Division in August, 1950, and was reported missing in action February 12.

He is listed as being a prisoner at Chiang-Song.

First Countian On List

Shaffer is the first countian to be reported as a prisoner of war in the current list issued by the Department of Defense of those reported to the United Nations by the Communists as prisoners of war in Korea. About 3,000 are contained on the lists released today and Wednesday.

Efforts to reach Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams at Abbottstown by telephone today were fruitless. The McWilliamses do not have a phone and neighbors said they did not know whether the uncle and aunt had been notified of the report but said that letters to the aunt "a couple months ago" said that the Abbottstown youth was a prisoner of war.

Another countian, Sfc. Regis Jenkins, son of Mrs. Bernard Jenkins, Hanover R. D., Conewago township, a World War II veteran and father of two children, was reported missing in action last November 30.

His mother said this morning she had received no word whether he is listed in the group. It is expected that he may be included in the Georgia list, with his wife and children residing there.

MORE THAN 300 AT FURNITURE FACTORY PARTY

Sparkling lights shining from a huge Christmas tree, Santa Claus with candy, oranges and gifts for the children, a mystifying magician who fascinated old and young with his bag of tricks, band music, whirling batons and dance routines by drum majorettes combined to make the annual Christmas party Wednesday night at the Gettysburg furniture factory an event long to be remembered.

To these features were added others—Christmas movies—a Santa Punch and Judy film, Christmas in Sweden, Donald Duck in a winter comedy and others, and refreshments.

The furniture display rooms on York street overflowed with the Christmas spirit. Children's eyes shown like bright stars in the holiday firmament and adults enjoyed every minute of a show which got under way shortly after 7 o'clock and continued for more than two hours.

Parties To Continue

"We welcome you all to this Christmas party," said S. Richard Lemberg, general manager, in greeting more than 300 employees and their wives and children. "We hope you enjoy yourselves and come to a bigger and better party next year." The custom of many years' standing, that of an annual Christmas party, will be continued, he said. "This has become a community institution. The show will go on."

Santa Claus was on the job early. From a table loaded with gifts, he gave out oranges, boxes of Christmas candy and gifts, books wrapped in gay colored paper, as the children lined up to shake hands with "Saint Nicholas." For each child there was a word of cheery greeting. (Please turn to page 8)

Boy Asks Santa To Send Coal To Grandparents

A Fairfield boy's letter to Santa Claus won him the title of "All-American boy" by Frank Brookhouser, author of the column, "It's Happening Here," in The Philadelphia Inquirer. In his column today Brookhouser wrote:

Our personal nomination for the All-American boy this Christmas season is Robert Lowe, who lives at R. 1, Fairfield, Pa.

He wrote a different kind of letter to Santa Claus.

"I am a boy 8 years old," he wrote. "I only want 2 things for Christmas. One of them is for everybody to pray to stop the off war. My daddy was shot in the war."

"My mother says if we all pray, God will hear us that there enough in the whole world for us all if we divide it and not be selfish."

"The second thing I want Santa is for you to bring my Great Grandparents something. They are 85 years old. They live up-state in a small town. The name of my Grandparents are Leo Lowe, Spruce Creek, Pa., Hunt Co.

"Santa, I think they would like some coal to keep them warm and something to eat."

"I pray every night so does my little sister Linda, she 5. Mother tucks us in for the night but we never forget are prayers so lets all of us pray for the soldier boys."

Robert Lowe asked nothing else in his letter. He signed it simply: "Your little friend—Robert Lowe."

COURT TO HEAR ARGUMENTS IN EQUITY ACTION

Farmers and other experts testified as to the condition of a 50 foot strip of land Grover Chronister has plowed to corn in Hamilton township for 31 years during a court session Wednesday afternoon. At the conclusion of testimony, Judge W. C. Sheely said that he will set a date later for argument in the case.

Discussion of when ground is wet and when it is dry and whether construction of a farm pond will make adjoining ground wetter than usual came about as a result of an equity action brought by Chronister, a former Hamilton constable, against Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hamm, his neighbors.

Claims Diversion

Chronister claimed construction of a large U-shaped earthen dam on the Hamm property abutting Chronister's land diverted the flow of surface water into the lower 50 feet of his land and rendered it unusable for corn planting.

One farmer witness summed up his opinion of the situation: "I always say when it's wet it's wet all over and when it's dry it's dry everywhere." But attorneys found their slipperiest going when they got into technical discussions on soil conformations, types of clay, sub-soil and topsoil. Attorney Donald M. Swope several times halted witness Richard Long, local soil conservationist, to confess, "I've mired down, let's go over that again."

Aged Man's Home Destroyed By Fire

An aged Adams county resident, Ellsworth Wolf, believed to be about 75 years of age, is being sheltered by neighbors after losing his log home and all of its contents by fire Wednesday night at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Wolf resides alone about half a mile off the Bendersville-Narrows road, near Wenksville. He escaped from the blazing structure with only the clothes he wore.

The fire was believed by Bendersville firemen, who responded to the call, to have been caused by an overheated stove.

The home was practically leveled by the time the firemen arrived. It was impossible to get the truck through the snow on the side road.

Release Of Prisoners Of War Delayed By Failure To Agree On Truce Terms And Armistice

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 20 (AP)—Freezing weather and heavy fog muffled the drums of war along the Korean battlefield today.

Scattered small arms and artillery fire were heard in Panmunjom by truce teams seeking agreement on a Korean armistice.

There were no reports of any major action across the 145-mile front. Soldiers on both sides concentrated in keeping warm.

The Reds took an advance position from Allied troops on the central front in the only action involving more than a patrol reported in the U. S. Eighth Army army evening communique. United Nations outposts fought from three hours with a company of attacking Reds before pulling back to their own lines shortly before dawn.

Gifts To Soldiers

As the twilight war entered its fourth week, Chinese Reds opened a Santa Claus offensive. They sent cheesecloth Christmas stockings loaded with Christmas cards, cheap gifts and propaganda to frontline Allies.

They were designed to lure U. N. soldiers into surrendering.

The U. S. Eighth Army said most of the stockings were brought across the lines by Korean farmers, with Red guns at their backs. Others were sneaked across the front and left where U. N. troops could find them.

Mrs. Edward Culp accompanied group singing of Christmas carols.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 20 (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army completed plans today to speed Allied prisoners homeward whenever they are freed from Communist prison camps. Simultaneously truce negotiators called in staff officers to try to figure out how to supervise an armistice.

A truce must be signed before prisoners will be released.

U. N. delegates suggested temporarily turning over to staff officers the problem of how to supervise a truce. It was a new effort to break a long deadlock. The Communists promptly agreed. Staff officers went to work immediately.

An Allied spokesman called it a "one-shot effort" to break the deadlock before the December 27 deadline.

The regular subcommittee will meet Friday at 1 p.m. (11 p.m. EST Thursday) regardless of the outcome of the staff officers' session.

Checking POW Lists

There has been no announcement as to whether the subcommittee on prisoner exchange will meet Friday. There was no session Thursday. Allied negotiators said they needed more time to check the list of 11,559 Allied prisoners supplied by the Communists Wednesday.

The actual method of exchanging prisoners remains to be worked out. But the Eighth Army announced everything is set to fly all U. N. personnel to Japan after they are freed. Plans also are being made for moving 132,472 Chinese and North Korean prisoners northward from Allied prison camps.

Allied prisoners will be taken first to reception centers in Korea for identification, preliminary medical checkups and new uniforms. Then they will be flown to Japan.

Accept Red Plan

In the truce town of Panmunjom staff officers took as a basis for discussion the latest Communist proposal for policing an armistice, with some U. N. modifications.

Allied negotiators said they would accept the Red plan as a starting point. But they specified there would be no modification of the U. N. demand for a ban on the repair or construction of North Korean airfields and a freeze on the military strength of both sides, with full rotation.

250 To Be Checked

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—The Defense Department still had about 250 names to check today on the Communist-supplied list of American prisoners of war in Korea.

The Pentagon finished the first phase of the huge job at 8:30 p.m. (EST) last night. At that hour, about 2,940 names on the full list of 3,198 had been identified.

Telegrams making it a joyous Christmas season for hundreds of American families went out by last night to nearly all the next of kin of the 2,940 men. But the sorrow deepened for the many more whose sons were not listed.

About 75 soldiers on the identified list named nearest relatives at overseas addresses. Messages to these kin are to be sent today.

Prisoners identified at the Pentagon included 2,724 soldiers in addition to the 75 with overseas next of kin, eight navy men, 58 marines and 76 airmen.

Horse Drops Dead As He Draws Sleigh

A sleigh ride ended in the death of "Harry Todd," 22-year-old horse owned by Dr. Bruce N. Wolff Wednesday afternoon.

Doctor Wolff had hitched the aged black animal, a one-time track horse, which had become familiar to many countians through appearances at the South Mountain Fair horse show and elsewhere, to the sleigh and planned to give hospital workers an opportunity for an old-fashioned sleigh ride while the ground was covered with snow.

"Harry Todd" had been pulling the sleigh for about a half hour and was walking down the Taneytown road just north of the National Museum towards Gettysburg when a heart attack caused the animal's death.

POW LIST IS NOW COMPLETE

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—The Associated Press completed at 9:19 a.m., EST, today transmission of the names and other pertinent information made public by the Pentagon on the Communist-supplied prisoner of war list.

The list of about 3,000 names, identifying information and next of kin data represented the equivalent of about 60,000 words and 20 hours of continuous teletype transmission.

The sending, however, could not be continuous from the time the first names were made public at the Pentagon Tuesday night. In the early stages, the lists did not become available fast enough to keep busy the Associated Press circuit on which they were given top priority.

However, last night the special machinery set up by the Defense department began turning out the lists at a faster pace. The AP's main news wire then was also devoted temporarily to moving the list. The names were sped all over the nation in two wires at once, or at better than 100 words a minute.

In order to get the news out fast to the public, the Defense department has waived its usual procedure of waiting 72 hours after the next of kin are notified before making public casualty reports. Names on the prisoner list were supplied to newsmen as quickly as possible after the notification to families began going out.

The department began reviewing the Communist list from Tokyo by military communications at about 4:30 p.m., EST, Tuesday.

11 MISSING ON BURNING SHIP

Astoria, Ore., Dec. 20 (AP)—The Coast Guard said today that eight passengers and three crewmen "possibly are missing" from the Danish motorship Erria burning in the mouth of the Columbia river.

The Coast Guard said 23 passengers and 80 crew members have been accounted for. These estimates were based on the belief that 114 persons were aboard the ship when it anchored just inside the mouth of the stream to await clearing weather before attempting to cross the bar. Crew members were unable to say positively how many passengers were aboard.

Early reports indicated that only one of those aboard went into the icy waters of the Columbia river. He was Hugo Ray, Vancouver, B. C., a passenger, who grabbed a line hanging over the side of the ship when the fire broke out. The line was unsecured and he plunged over the side, but was quickly picked up by a Coast Guard vessel.

Ray's 11-year-old son, Bill, suffered a burned heel in the fire and was taken to a hospital here. Ray's wife and three-month-old son were safe.

The Erria, bound from Portland, Ore., to San Francisco, was burning 1/2 of a mile off the Coast Guard station. She was at anchor, awaiting clearing weather before crossing the bar when the fire broke out.

McAlester, Okla. (AP)—When George Washington, cook at the White House cafe, reported at his draft board, he had troubles.

"What's your name?" asked the selective service official filling out the questionnaire.

"George Washington," The draft official was nonplused, but continued: "How do you get your mail?"

"Just send it in care of the White House," George Washington smiled.

NO TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Columbus, Ohio (AP)—The General Machine Products company has found a way to beat Columbus automobile traffic—they use airplanes. When company officials have business at North American Aviation, Inc., they hop in a plane of the nearby Jones Flying Service and make the trip in six minutes. Ordinarily it takes 45 minutes to drive from one plant to the other. The company claims it saves money as well as time.

Indonesians Want War Films Banned

Jakarta, Indonesia (AP)—American-made "gangster films," war pictures and motion-picture cheese-cake may go off Indonesian screens—if two prominent Indonesian parliament members have their way.

Dr. Soeharno, chairman of parliament's Foreign Affairs section, wanted the government to ban films glorifying war and "a certain political ideology." He feared these films hampered the establishment of world peace in general and the pursuance of Indonesia's independent foreign policy in particular. In addition he pointed out that American gangster films endanger national morality.

Versatile Ex-Sailor Man Of Many Trades

Newport, R. I. — "Versatile" describes retired Navy Chief Walter C. Johnston. He conducts Newport community classes on the musical saw. And he holds two patents on the use of shark teeth in jewelry.

Johnston, now 69, can't understand why shark meat isn't generally sold. He says it tastes good and has high food value. He claims a world's record catch of 10,000 pounds of shark in four hours off Fernandez, Fla., in 1923.

Before joining the Navy in 1903 he trekked about the country and now figures he has worked at 65 occupations in 48 states. He says he's pretty good at 37 different jobs. He has collected 500,000 stamps.

Officer Remembers 10-Year-Old Warrant

Warwick, R. I. (AP)—The long arm of the law happened to be exactly as long as Police Captain Sam Henderson's memory. When he read that a man had been charged in nearby Providence with driving off with two tons of the city's coal, Henderson's memory guided his hand to a dusty warrant which had laid in his desk for 10 years.

Result: the culprit paid an old $5 drunkenness fine, plus $4.80 costs, plus $2.63 for extra paper work by the jailer, who collected the old fine in Kent County jail.

Helicopter Mail Service Anniversary

Brussels (AP)—The only European helicopter mail service is just one year old. Operated by the Sabena Belgian Airlines, it flew some 400 pounds of mail all over Belgium, covering about 270 miles daily in some 4 1/2 hours.

Twelve daily helicopter mail deliveries have been made to towns, where road or railroad communications are poor.

Only 9 per cent of the flights had to be cancelled or interrupted. Helicopters are now being equipped with blind flying equipment, to increase regularity of flights.

Talking Pictures Help Find Mates

Munich, Germany (AP)—A Munich marriage agency makes talking movies of persons seeking a mate. These films are shown to applicants of the opposite sex, instead of the usual still photographs.

The films are much more persuasive, the agency finds. They also help to avoid the disappointments which often result from artistically re-touched photographs.

The agency plans to promote exchanges of such films with lonely heart services in America.

BOMBING BASE OUT IN SPACE NOW POSSIBLE

Chicago (AP)—The German scientist who made the V-2 rocket contends construction of a bomb-dropping base 1,000 miles above the earth "will be the inevitable result of the present armaments race."

"With the tremendous advances recently achieved in aerial defense, it appears to me that in the atomic age the nation which first owns such a bomb-dropping space station will be in a position to control the earth," he says.

This view was expressed by Dr. Walther von Braun, now of the ordnance research and development sub office (rocket) at Fort Bliss, Tex., in a new book "Space Medicine," published by the University of Illinois Press.

Dr. Von Braun says construction of such a platform is theoretically possible at the present stage of rocket and fuel development and that "it will not be the engineering problems but rather the limits of the human frame that will make the final decision as to whether manned space flight will eventually become a reality."

(An annual report of the late Secretary of Defense Forrestal mentioned an "earth satellite vehicle program" in 1949.)

Dr. Von Braun says a three stage rocket, 65 feet in diameter and 15 stories high, could provide the velocity necessary to reach the 1,000 mile height in space.

How It Might Be Built

He gives this theoretical picture of how a space platform could be set up:

The three-stage rocket would take off at a speed slightly greater than the V-2 rocket. It would start straight up, but its path soon would start tilting. When the fuel in the first section was exhausted, that section would drop off and the motor of the second section would roar into action. The third section, carrying a 30-ton payload, would take off alone the instant the fuel in the second booster was gone.

The nose section would be only 60 miles above the earth when its fuel was cut off but it would be streaking along at 27,000 feet a second and by then it na path horizontal to the earth.

At this great speed, the rocket's terrific momentum would be greater than the pull of gravity and it would sail out into space in an elliptical path.

Could Circle Earth

The farthest point of this ellipse—the point at which the space rocket would halt its flight from earth is 1,075 miles from earth's surface.

At this point the rocket's speed would be only slightly less than that of an orbit circling the earth. The rocket's motors would be cut in to accelerate the ship to orbit speed.

Orbit speed is the point where a circling object's velocity — its pull away from earth — is matched exactly by the pull of gravity.

At this point the rocket would be circling the earth freely like the moon. Without using any additional power, the rocket would circle the earth's surface every two hours.

The space station could be built of flexible plastic, like a rubber raft. These sections could be fired up separately and collapsed. Then men working in pressurized space suits could inflate them and join them together into a giant doughnut 200 feet in diameter.

The station could be made to rotate slowly around its hub to generate a synthetic gravity for personnel stationed in the doughnut rim. The rim would be pressurized and air conditioned.

This station actually would be an orbit circling the earth at a speed of some 15,000 miles an hour.

Might Return To Earth

The rocket could return to earth simply by reducing its speed below the pull of gravity. If it were equipped with wings, it could land. Planets, Dr. von Braun said, "raise considerably fewer problems" than the design of ships capable of reaching the velocity of an orbit.

Space ships refueling at the space platform, he said, would need to increase their speed only 9,300 feet a second to reach the moon.

"It can therefore be stated that once an artificial satellite has become a reality, interplanetary voyages will not be far away," he said.

Other scientists, however, pointed out in the book that medicine has not caught up with problems space travel would raise.

There are problems of weightlessness out beyond the pull of gravity, the danger of cosmic radiation and collisions with meteors.

KLUSZEWSKI IS TOP FIELDING FIRST BASEMAN

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—Who is the better fielding first baseman? Gil Hodges of Brooklyn or Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati.

Prepare for a surprise. According to National league fielding averages, Kluszewski had a fielding percentage of .997, five points better than Hodges' .992.

The Hodges rooters can point out that although Kluszewski made more putouts and committed only five errors to Gil's 12, the Dodger star topped Ted in assists, 126 to 88 and participated in 56 more double plays.

Here is the best fielding team, according to official figures released yesterday:

First base—Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati, .997.

Second base—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, .992.

Third base—Billy Johnson, St. Louis, .976.

Shortstop—Virgil Stallcup, Cincinnati, .969.

Right field—Willard Marshall, Boston, 1.070.

Center field—Lloyd Merriman, Cincinnati, .997.

Left field—Monte Irvin, New York, .996.

Catcher—Wes Westrum, New York, .987.

Pitcher—Sal Maglie, New York, 1.000.

The season's outstanding field performances were turned in by Robinson, Marshall and Richie Ashburn, the swift centerfielder of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Robinson Breaks Mark

Robinson shattered a league fielding mark for second basemen, posting a spectacular .992 percentage in 150 games. The 32-year-old Dodger star committed a record low of only seven miscues while accepting 832 chances. The old record of .987 was set by Al (Red) Schoendienst of the Cardinals, who oddly enough also bettered that figure last season with a .990 mark.

Marshall became only the second major league ever to play through an entire season without a single error. The Braves' right fielder accepted 231 chances in 136 games, somewhat below the flawless 317 chances in 151 games accepted by Danny Litzweiler of the 1942 Phillies.

Ashburn ranked only sixth among the flycatchers but he outranked all his rivals in total chances accepted. At a matter of fact, it was no contest. The tow-headed Philly speed merchant took care of 560 chances. Brooklyn's Duke Snider, with 399 chances, was his closest rival.

Ashburn Nears Record

Ashburn's 560 chances included 538 putouts, 15 assists and seven errors. He came only six chances away from the major league record of 566 set by Taylor Douthitt, the old Card centerfielder. Douthitt's 547 putouts that year also is a record.

The Cards led in club fielding with a mark of .989. Brooklyn participated in the most double plays, 192. Pittsburgh tied a record by leaving 18 men on bases in the game on June 5 against the Braves. The league established a double play mark of 1,337, replacing the old record of 1,318 set in 1930.

Charles Town Race Meet Is Cancelled

Charles Town, W. Va., Dec. 20 —

The 18th northern racing season ended abruptly Wednesday when the Charles Town Jockey club cancelled the remainder of its program and the final three days of its meeting after two jockeys were injured in a three-horse spill in the first race.

A heavy snow forced cancellation of Tuesday's races and a bright sun, which left the track soft on top and frozen underneath, produced a hazardous course which brought the meeting to a halt.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—There hasn't been much talk about that new 25,000 seat Madison Square Garden since attendance at the old one reached the stage where 7,000 looks like a good crowd. . . . So in place of an expensive new building, this department offers a few mechanical devices for the old joint which might improve performances and bring the customers back. . . . All we need is some bright lad to build the gadgets.

INVENTORS WANTED

First need, a robot boxing machine which would pair up the guys who ought to fight each other and at the same time slap gags on their managers. . . . The self-winding clock watcher: So the lads wouldn't waste time peering at the gallery clock to time their flurries. . . . The radio-TV commentator blotter-out, to silence the guy who shouts "He lands a terrific right hook" when you can see the boxer pawing futilely with his left. . . . For hockey, the puck magnet, to be turned on at appropriate intervals to draw Ranger players and the puck toward the goal.

Strong rubber hands should be attached to players to pull them away again in case they forget to back-check. . . . The electronic dump detector for basketball: It would spot actual and potential fixers and fixers at the doors and lower a pair of steel arms to throw the burns out. . . . The tintle mixer for wrestlers, who prove every night that nature isn't always right.

Changing shades would provide variety for the customers. . . . Revolving eye-glasses for spectators to restore six-day bike races to popularity. . . . If the riders eat like they used to, the scent of broiling steaks and chops would lure plenty of folks through the gates.

PREDICTS MORE WILDCAT STARS IN CAGE FIXES

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 20 (AP)—Assistant District Attorney Vincent O'Connor, enroute to New York today, predicted the names of other Kentucky players involved in basketball fixes will come to light.

His six day investigation up against a blank wall, O'Connor conferred briefly yesterday with Gov. Lawrence Wetherby before departing. Afterwards, he said:

"I want to state more emphatically that our department does not mean we are dropping—or even considering dropping—our investigation of Kentucky players we definitely know are involved in the fixes."

Nowhere in his remarks did O'Connor indicate whether the players involved are present or former members of the Wildcat squad.

At Lexington, President H. L. Donovan hastened to assure the public the university has not played and shall not play any boy "about whom we have any ground for believing x x x has participated in any fix."

In a prepared statement, Dr. Donovan expressed thanks to O'Connor and his staff for their help and cooperation in "our effort to clear up the scandal in which the University of Kentucky players have been implicated."

Names Forthcoming

O'Connor, who was invited to Kentucky by Governor Wetherby, said after their conference:

"The identities of these (U.K.) players and the games they fixed will become publicly known at trials of others. He added the players can escape prosecution because the fixing was not done in New York."

Praising Wetherby and the university for its aid, O'Connor said they wanted to help bring to "justice a number of vicious fixers" in addition to those who have been indicted for "corrupting" three former Wildcats—Alex Groza, Dale Barnstable and Ralph Beard. All three have admitted accepting bribes to regulate the point spread in basketball games.

O'Connor said his attempts to remove clouds of suspicion from innocent players were thwarted by the refusal of others to talk.

HUSKIES HAVE CHANCE TO GET TOP CAGE SPOT

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—The University of Washington Huskies, Pacific Coast Conference champions, have a golden opportunity to become the No. 1 college basketball team in the nation.

Their chances of gaining the top rung in the Associated Press poll depend on what they do against Minnesota at Minneapolis tomorrow and Saturday.

Currently ranked No. 8, the Huskies opened their midwest invasion last night by bowling over 4th-ranked St. Louis, 58-53. It was Washington's sixth straight victory.

If the Huskies whip Minnesota, conquerors of Kentucky, No. 2, a team which in turn walloped the currently top ranked St. Johns of Brooklyn quintet, the PCC outfit would be certain to gain prestige.

Penn Wins Again

Unbeaten Pennsylvania, touted as the team to watch in the Ivy circuit, likewise opened a midwest tour by edging Pitt, 55-52, at Pittsburgh, with a rally in the last three minutes. Penn plays tonight at Michigan and Saturday at Notre Dame.

Oklahoma A & M, beaten Tuesday night by Southern California, turned the tables on the Trojans by winning 58-47, in the first half of a double-header at Tulsa. In the second game Tulsa whipped Missouri, 60-53.

In a twin bill at Dallas, Texas Christian beat Texas Tech, 68-43, and Southern Methodist took Nebraska, 61-55.

Seton Hall, ranked 10th, had an easy time against Baldwin-Wallace, 83-57.

Navy knocked Princeton out of the unbeaten ranks, 54-45.

Columbia staved off a late Fordham rally to win, 47-46, and Army opened its season with a 66-50 thrumping of Ithaca.

In other games Villanova walloped Mt. St. Mary's, 97-64 and Maryland conquered Washington and Lee, 51-43.

MOUNTAINEERS LOSE 1ST GAME TO VILLANOVA

Bill Clarke's Mt. St. Mary's college basketball team was knocked out of the ranks of the unbeaten Wednesday evening when the strong Villanova college quintet scored a 97-64 victory before approximately 1,000 fans in the Villanova field house.

Larry Hennessey, sharp-shooting Wildcat star, hit the cords for 13 goals and nine fouls in leading Villanova to its fourth win of the campaign. The defeat was the first for the Mounts who had won their three previous games. The win was the 28th straight at home for Villanova.

Until late in the second quarter it appeared that Mt. St. Mary's was going to make a real game out of it. Jerry Ryan, lanky Mount ace, matched Hennessey in scoring during the early moments and when he was throttled, Jack Rochford took over to hit from the outside which brought a 34-34 deadlock.

Set up defensively to stop Hennessey's long shots, the Mounts fell behind when Nick Maguire scored twice on drive-ins to put Villanova in front and it was never headed thereafter. At half time the Mounts trailed 50-36.

Mt. St. Mary's will be idle until after the Christmas holidays and will next meet Shippensburg State Teachers' college at Emmitsburg on January 5.

Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)— Legislation requiring hoisting devices for construction workers on buildings of seven or more stories was back in the Senate today for concurrence on House amendments.

The bill, which requires construction companies to erect temporary elevators on such construction sites, states the devices are for workers "doing labor on or above the seventh story." The penalty for violation would be $100 fine or a 30-day jail sentence upon conviction by a magistrate.

FUMIGATE GLADIOLUS CORNS NOW

Gladiolus growers are fully aware of the destructive ravages of the tiny insect known as gladiolus thrip. Of course, few growers ever see this enemy because it is so small it easily escapes detection and also because it feeds during the growing season out of sight beneath the leaf sheaths.

The importance of considering this problem now lies in the fact that thrips live over winter in the stored corns. Therefore, if the over-wintering brood is killed, there will be no survivors to propagate a race of thrips next summer. In other words, every flower grower who stores gladiolus corns for home planting should fumigate his corns soon. This is the solution of the thrip problem.

Formerly it was thought that gladiolus thrips lived over winter in the refuse of stalks and other debris where the plants had grown. But later investigations indicated that the stored corns were this pest's sole habitat over winter. Then when the corns are planted out the next spring the insect begins to propagate a new race of thrips.

If gladiolus plants showed evidences of silvering and browning any time during the growing season, a condition often mistaken for blight or similar disease symptoms, then it is wise to suspect the stored corns of harboring the enemies. Too, close examination of the corns will likely show a russeting of the fed-over surfaces.

15 Nations Off Gold Standard: London, Dec. 14 (AP)—The departure of Japan from the gold standard and the placing of an embargo on gold exports are the latest developments in the world muddle centering around the yellow metal.

Fifteen nations have now forsaken the gold monetary system temporarily and a number of others are trying to reach a decision. England is not hurrying to stabilize the hundred pound and states it would be fatal to do so too soon at too high a figure.

Complete Plant Of Littlestown
Shoe Company: In a new and modern building where efficiency is the keynote and waste motion is reduced to a minimum, the Littlestown shoe company began operations on Wednesday.

By next May, Mr. Joseph Groat, president of the concern, expects the plant to be operating at capacity with 350 men and women at work and an average daily output of 3,600 pairs of shoes.

The plant will manufacture women's shoes exclusively, footwear which will retail at two prices, $1.95 and $2.95.

Besides Mr. Groat, the other officers are I. J. Ward, Hanover, vice president, and J. J. Rosenthal, Littlestown, secretary-treasurer.

The building was erected by William Sneeringer, Littlestown contractor.

Christmas Party: The members of the Acorn club closed the year
Saturday evening with the annual Christmas party in the form of a present. The first meeting of the club in 1932 will be held with Miss Maud Whitehead.

To Spend Christmas In The West:
Judge and Mrs. Donald P. McPherson left from Harrisburg Tuesday evening for Flagstaff, Arizona, to spend Christmas with their son, Donald P. McPherson, who is spend-and Mrs. McPherson and their son will visit the Grand Canyon and of the club, presiding.

Guests other than members of the squad were: G. W. Lefever, Coach

directors present were Mahlon P.
Hartzell, Roy W. Wentz, Arthur E.

"FAN" MAIL

When a new book comes out its author is far more interested in honest reviews of it than in the compensation that later accrues, for when a book is given to the public something of that author's life is presented, and it is the appreciation and encouragement he receives that gives him the greatest cheer.

It's the same with an actor or writer for the daily press or for magazines. If people do not express their appreciation, that actor's or writer's spirit is lowered. It's the so-called "fan" mail that gives the big boost to each. No matter how popular one's work may be, it's the letters of appreciation that keep arriving that keep that one doing his very best.

Naturally not all performers and writers can answer all the "fan" letters they receive. Many have no secretaries; nevertheless they appreciate these expressions of good will.
As David Dunn, in his uplifting little book "Try Giving Yourself Away," says: "They may appear to be utterly self-sufficient—but they are not;
deep down inside most of them love it! The publicity manufactured to build them up does not warm their heart. What they crave is the spontaneous human, affectionate appreciation of the people they are trying to please."

No sincere writer could long continue to express himself if no one ever wrote to encourage and appreciate his work. That encouragement is the very thing that keeps his work to its highest standard of helpfulness. I have learned that the bigger a man or woman is the more human and understanding each is,
and his or her reaction to encouragement always genuine and highly appreciative.

A very great writer once said: "I like not only to be loved, but to be loved that I am loved. The realm of silence is large enough beyond the grave." So if we have praise to give to anyone, we ought to give it today. Tomorrow may never come!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Personality."

New Lights In Center Square
Cause Comment: Gettysburgians saw the new center square "white way" for the first time Monday evening, and the sentiment on the effectiveness of the new street lighting system was divided.

While all were agreed that the twelve standards thoroughly illuminated the sidewalk and a portion of the street, the critics pointed out that the lights left the ornamental flower plot in almost complete darkness.

The standards are the latest design in street lighting and constitute a distinct improvement in center square is the opinion of almost everyone.

VARIATIONS IN CURB HEIGHTS POSE PROBLEMS

The height of the curbing on Queen street was the main topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Littlestown borough council on Tuesday evening, one week earlier than the regular time due to the Christmas holiday, in the office of the borough secretary, Roger J. Keefe, North Queen street. The council president, John N. Sell, presided.

Discussion took place regarding the manner in which the North and South Queen street construction by the State Highway department has been completed and special comment was given on the varying height of the curbing in various places. Some of the curbing is 13 1/2 inches high. The curbing on North Queen street at the Brown apartment building ranges in height from 9 1/2 inches to 13 1/2 inches, this being one of the worst places along the entire street. Many other spots exceeded the proposed eight inch height, council heard.

A communication was read from the Department of Highways wherein it stated that: "Concerning the height of the curb throughout the borough, the planned height is 8 inches with the exception at inlets and at these points the inlets are dropped 2 inches, which makes a 10-inch curb at these points. The gutter line is feathered out from 10 to 8 inches in approximately 10 or 12 feet." Secretary Keefe informed council that the matter had previously been taken up with state officials and that the letter written to the highway department had been "disregarded." When the secretary inquired about the height of the curb at the Brown apartments, he was informed that the curb had been constructed according to specifications. Mr. Keefe then told the councilmen that he inquired of the highway official, Russell S. Conrad.
A certification to the effect that the curbing and the street were constructed according to specifications adopted by the borough council is being sought from the state.

It was learned that a final inspection will be made by the highway and borough officials, and council agreed that if and when the inspection is held, a representative of the council or all of its members, accompany the inspectors. It was decided to contact the state as to whether some of the curbing can be lowered.

Council was in charge of having the snow removed around the business section of the town on Saturday and the question arose as to whether the practice should be continued. The cost on Saturday was approximately $100, as reported by Councilman Erwin A. Rebert, chairman of the street committee. After some deliberation, it was decided to continue removing the snow in the section of town where the parking meters are located, and that the parking meters which had been removed during the construction of North and South Queen streets be re-installed as soon as the snow is removed.

The question of electing a street commissioner for the borough was discussed. It was the general opinion that no action be taken to appoint a commissioner since the present council only has a few weeks remaining to serve until the new council takes office. The name of Charles Everhart was considered by the councilmen for the job and he was employed on an hourly basis, if needed, for the next few weeks.

Change Ordinance
Inquiry was made as to why the one-way traffic sign at the Blocher-Barker alley had not been removed.
Burgess Herbert J. Motter told council the matter would be taken care of at the first opportune moment.

The matter of erecting parking meters on the east side of South
Queen street, between the Renner-Dern ally and the Dern Zerling store was discussed. W. H. Dern had inquired in regard to placing the highway traffic signs and the meter posts within the sidewalk prior to the relaying the sidewalk, inasmuch as this portion of the street is now uniform with the remainder of the street. It was previously planned to replace the meters in that part of the street. Therefore, the posts were replaced so that the walk can be constructed.

It was decided that Section I of Ordinance No. 129 be repealed inas-far as it prohibits parking of vehicles on the east side of South
Queen street beginning at the south curb line of the first alley south of East King street and extending southwardly along the east side of South Queen street for a distance of 76.7 feet and that parking meters be installed in this area.

pensitures for December, $1,022.65;
highway aid fund expenditures for December, $2,389.70; sanitary sewer fund expenditures, $425.77; expenditures for all funds during December, $5,545.45.

Adopt Sidewalk Ordinance
An ordinance relating to the construction of sidewalks in the borough was introduced and after some discussion Ordinance No. 136 was adopted as prepared by Solicitor
Daniel E. Teeter and will be advertised.

An overcoat for Chief of Police Albert H. Miller, Jr., was requested but the type of coat was not known by the councilmen, so it was decided to await more information from Chief of Police Miller.

The secretary was authorized to get in touch with the United Telephone company to learn what action is being taken for the installation of a telephone with a signal light for the police department at center square.

To Seek Bids
The secretary exhibited to council plans for an emergency lighting system in the Alpha fire engine house, which plans were prepared by Herbert S. Plunkert and submitted to the Department of Labor and Industry for approval and had been approved by the department. At a previous meeting it was decided that plans for a gas lighting system would be approved, providing the gas lights would be lighted while the other lights were burning but this would be more expensive under the circumstances. It was also understood that at the last meeting of the Alpha Fire company, the company had gone on record as volunteering to divide the cost with the council on an approved emergency lighting system. Council decided to go along with the company on this basis and advertise for bids or proposals on the cost for the installation of such a system.

Chief of Police Albert H. Miller, Jr., presented his report from November 15 to December 15 as follows: three arrests for driving too fast for conditions; one arrest for blinking red light; two accidents reported; three special reports for

Checked For Leakage
The possibility that the Hamm dam might leak, permitting some water to seep into the Chronister land, was checked, Long said.
Chemicals were placed in the dam,
he said, and then the water in the field outside the dam was checked to see if any of the impounded water was getting through. No evidence of the chemical was found outside the dam a week after it had been placed, thus indicating that there was no seepage, Long said.

Various neighbors testified concerning the wetness and dryness of Chronister's property. Robert Lemmon, Denton Miller, Jacob Shriver and others took the stand. Shriver, a road supervisor in the township, said he believed that Chronister had more water than usual in his land because extension of the culvert under the road, made when the road was widened, causes more water to "back up" on the Chronister property.

STROUSE BAER
PARTY IS HELD

Approximately 80 were in attendance at the annual Christmas banquet for the employees of the Strouse Baer sewing factory and their guests on Tuesday evening at Basehor's restaurant, North Queen street. A full course roast turkey dinner was served. Gifts were exchanged by the employees and a gift was presented to Mrs. Edna Sanders, manager of the local factory, by the employees. Each supervisor of the three local branch plants, Mrs. Carmen Slick, Mrs. Lela Shandbrook and Miss Lydia Sentz was presented with a gift from her employees. The factory bookkeeper, Mrs. David Shildt, also received a gift from the girls of the three plants. Events scheduled for the evening were curtailed due to the weather conditions.

A covered dish supper was held in conjunction with the monthly meeting of the Girls' Guild of St. Paul's Lutheran church on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the social hall of the church. Following the meal a social hour was held and the members exchanged gifts. The program scheduled for the Christmas meeting was not held due to the bad weather. The next meeting of the Girls' Guild will be held Tuesday, January 15, at the church.

To Omit Meeting

The December meeting of the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity will be omitted this month. The Christmas party and meeting was scheduled for Wednesday evening but was cancelled because of the bad weather conditions. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, January 16. Further plans for this meeting will be announced later.

A short program was presented at the Christmas party for the children of the Primary Sunday school department of St. Paul's Lutheran church, held on Monday evening at the church with approximately 100 in attendance. The program opened with carol singing by the group. A story entitled "The Christmas Stocking" was told by the pastor, the Rev. David S. Kummer. The Christmas scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Milton Harner. Several reels of film in keeping with the holiday season were shown by Luther W. Ritter. The party ended with treats being presented to each of the children by the teachers of the Primary and Kindergarten Sunday school departments.

Program At St. James

The annual Christmas service at St. James' Evangelical and Reformed church, along the Harney road, will be held on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Edward R. Hamme is the pastor.

The program will be as follows: Piano prelude; song by the congregation; scripture reading; prayer; Rev. Dr. Hamme; recitation, "Welcome," Marvin Fissel; recitation, "Bringing in the Tree," Mark Laughman; vocal duet, Hazel and Jean Krout; recitation, "Quite Big," Gene Laughman; vocal solo, Mildred Harner; a Christmas play entitled "The Christmas Child," with these characters: Jim Brown, the station agent, Allen Walker; Bill Barrow, the helper at the station, Lee Krout; John Richmond, a prosperous traveler, Fred Fissel; Mary Richmond, his wife, Mrs. Fred Fissel; Henry Roemer, a salesman, Loy Lee King; Grandma Goodsole, a beloved villager, Mrs. H. Allen Walker; Peggy Murphy, keeper at the inn, Beatrice Laughman; recitation, "A Christmas Tree for the Little Lord Jesus," Janet DeHoff; recitation, "Merry Christmas," Diane Fissel; exercise, "Candles for Christmas," Jean Krout, Mark Laughman, Hazel Krout and Janet DeHoff; play entitled, "A Light in My Window," with the following participating: Myrna Fissel, Creta Epley, Nadine Fissel, Mildred Harner, Charles Plank, Jr., Mark Laughman, Helen Slick and William Fissel. The program will close with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Hamme.

To Rehearse Friday

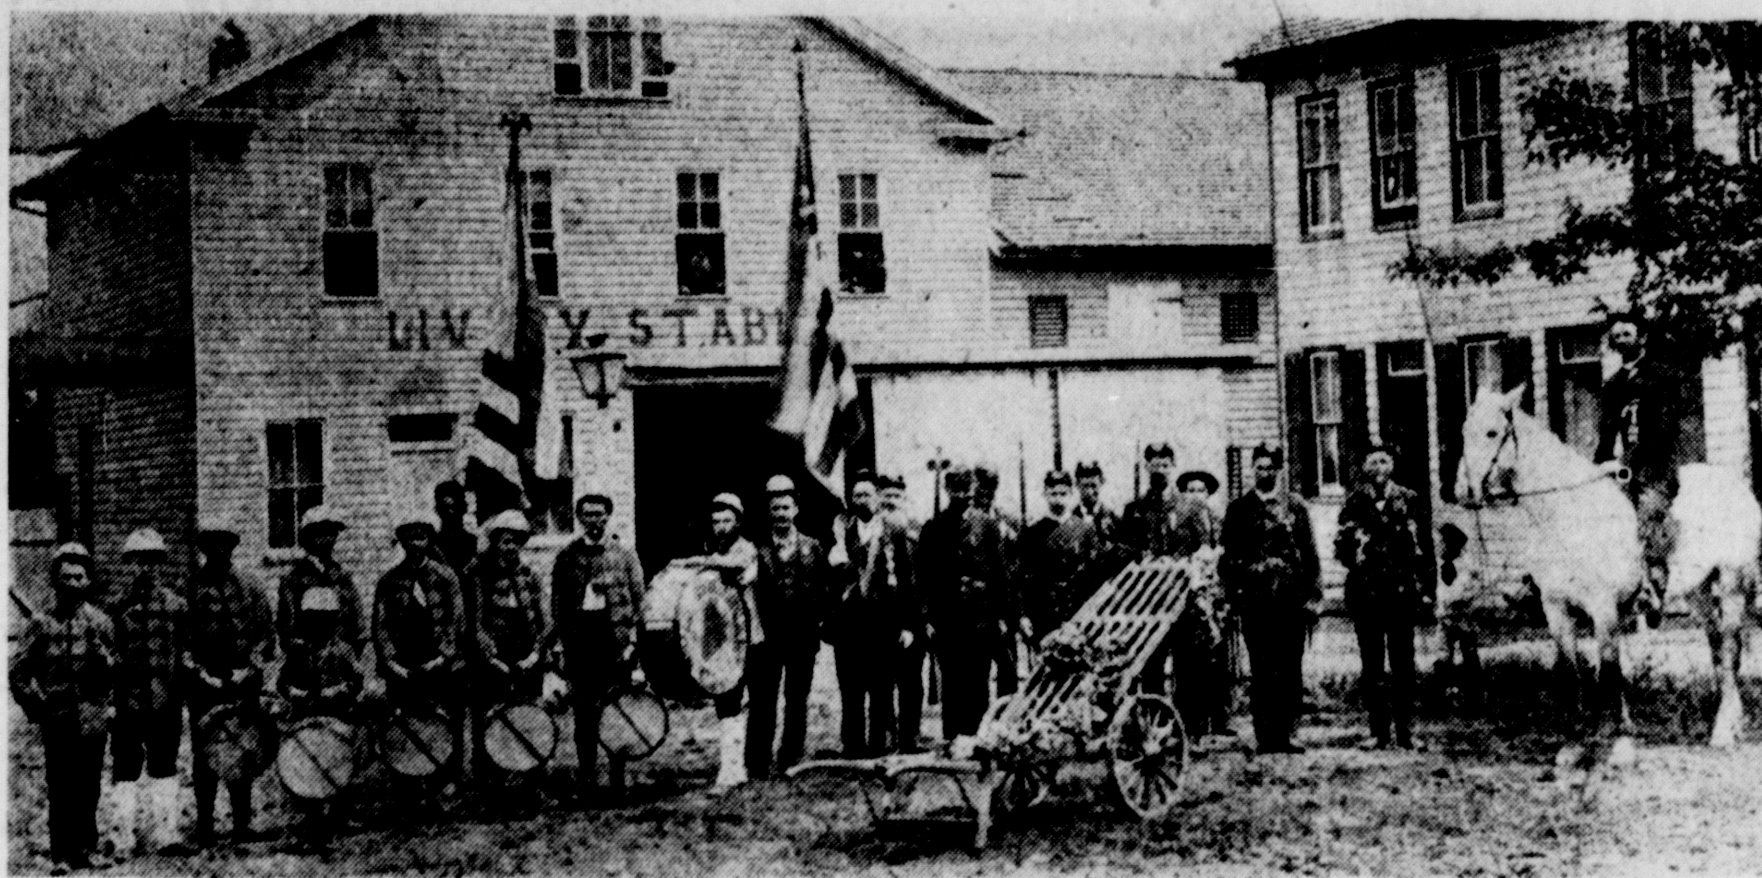

The children of the Primary Sunday school department of St. John's Lutheran church who are participating in the Christmas program will have rehearsal on Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the church. The program will be presented on Christmas Eve at 7:30 o'clock.

Oscar M. Brown, South Queen street, received the award at the Appreciation Day program Wednesday evening. Mr. Brown received five percent of the total jackpot. The daily programs are sponsored by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce.

The Littlestown Woman's club will distribute the annual Christmas cheer baskets among the needy families of the community again this year. It was previously planned to have the members bring donations for the baskets along to the meeting on Wednesday evening, but the meeting was cancelled. The donations may now be left with Mrs. Joseph R. Rden, East King street, chairman of the club welfare committee, on Thursday evening or early Friday morning. Donations may also be left with any other member of the welfare committee, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans, Mrs. William H. Marshman, Mrs. John W. LeGore, Mrs. John Kindig, Mrs. Gilbert Royston and Mrs. Vernon Snyder.

"Little David," perhaps the largest gun ever built, was a 36-inch siege mortar designed by the U. S. Army to help break through Germany's Siegfried Line in World War II.

Theo. Pfeiffer Camp, No. 60, S. of V., Poses for Photograph, Some 60 Years Ago

The above picture of Theo. Pfeiffer camp No. 60, Sons of Union Veterans, was taken around 1890 in the northeast angle of Center Square, New Oxford, apparently on the occasion of the annual Memorial Day parade. The "livery stable," in the rear of the Old Eagle hotel (now the Park hotel), was destroyed by fire in the early '20s. The Livingston building now occupies the site of the frame building on the right.

The only person on the picture now living is A. F. McCadden, Berlin street, who is second to the left of the bass drum. The bass drummer is Charles Stough. Howard Brown is standing in rear of small drummer, unidentified. To the right of the lad, in drum corps uniforms, are Alex Brashears, Joseph B. Weaver and George Morrison.

The horse-back rider is J. Mac. Gilbert. Second from the right is H. K. Schnell and the third from right is Wm. Wagner. George Smith is first man to the left of the bass drum, and Wm. C. Gilbert is third man left of the bass drum. The others cannot be identified.

The cart in front was used for many years at the W.M.V.R. station in New Oxford.

Anyone who can identify the others on the photograph is requested to inform Paul Rabine, who has the original photograph of the S. of V. camp.

Emmitsburg

ELIAS LUTHERAN
PLANS EVENTS

Elias Evangelical Lutheran church of Emmitsburg will hold the first of its Christmas services this Sunday, December 23, according to announcement made by the pastor, Rev. Philip Bower.

Sunday's special services will open with Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. when Christmas carols will be sung by the school. A Christmas lesson will be given and a gift of candy and oranges will be distributed to the entire school. Robert Saylor, the school's secretary, has charge of the gifts.

A Festival of Christmas Music will be presented by the Chapel choir directed by Mrs. Reginald Zepp at the church service at 10:30 a.m. One of the choir's anthems will be from the Messiah, by Handel. The children of the Sunday school will present a program in the parish house Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Children's Program

The Sunday evening program will include songs and recitations by the very small children directed by Mrs. Roy Maxwell and Mrs. Charles Harner and helpers; the Primary children will present the background and some of the history of a number of familiar Christmas carols. Linda Knox will give the introduction. The story of "Away In a Manger" will be presented by Barry Rosensteel; "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," by Harriet Hahn; "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear," Robert Rosensteel; "Joy To The World," by Dennis McGlaughlin; "O Little Town Of Bethlehem," Carol Messenger; "Silent Night," by Nancy Rohrbaugh. Two boys will sing solos. Stephen Withide will sing "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," and Robert Ginnell will sing "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear." The Junior and Intermediate departments will present a pageant entitled "A Christmas Carol Tableau."

The pageant will be presented by about fifty boys and girls from age 9 to 15 and will include a choir of approximately 25 children. Jack White will be the narrator of the story and a cast of children will present a series of tableaux depicting the Christmas story.

Law Will Protect
Italian Landscapes

Rome (AP)—Neon signs and advertisements will not be allowed to spoil the landscape around Italy's famed tourist resorts. A law for the defense of Italian landscape has been enacted recently.

The ministerial committee responsible for enforcement has already approved plans covering the Islands of Capri and Ischia in the Bay of Naples and of Portofino and Nervi, on the Italian Riviera near Genoa.

The committee has to approve the areas where new buildings may be built, and approve the style and dimensions of the projected buildings.

It has asked for the removal of advertising posters which spoil the landscape in certain areas of the country.

ROMAN CANDLES CHASE BIRDS

Urbana, Ill. (AP)—Use Fourth of July Roman candles to get rid of noisy flocks of starlings or blackbirds, suggests the University of Illinois experts.

The university wildlife service says shoot the Roman candles just before it gets dark and the birds then will have only enough light left to fly elsewhere for the night. It adds that two or three nights of this should scare the birds away for good.

An Honor No One Wants

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—This week-end some unknown American will get the honor that no one wants. It is the honor of becoming the 1,000,000th automobile fatality in this country.

The person who gets this dubious distinction may even now be curiously following the National Safety Council's careful check of traffic deaths as they near the 1,000,000th mark, and saying to himself:

"Boy, I'd hate to be the unlucky guy they're looking for."

Who will the 1,000,000th be? A school child darting across the street? A housewife driving home from Christmas shopping? An old lady coming home from church? A teen-ager speeding his jalopy too fast around an icy curve? A drunk behind a wheel where he doesn't belong?

Death on the highways has become so commonplace it is accepted as a fact of existence, a risk the American people are so accustomed to that they no longer think it very odd that motor vehicles have caused them more casualties in a half century than all their wars put together.

Who will the 1,000,000th victim be? Rich man... poor man... or a baby in some one's arms?

The one sure thing is that it might be you.

If you are the unlucky 1,000,000th fatality, the chances are that you will die in an accident that could have been avoided.

You will be a brief celebrity for sure — a celebrated corpse for a day.

This kind of fame, however, is hardly rewarding.

The automobiles will go right on killing. The toll will begin its climb toward the second millionth victim. And you will be forgotten, or remembered at best as only a minor footnote in the history of the machine age.

VOTE INCREASE IN WORKMEN'S
COMPENSATION

Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)—A bill increasing maximum workmen's compensation benefits from $25 to $30 a week was approved by the Senate last night.

It went back to the House for concurrence in Senate amendments, calling for elimination of a medical board which reviews medical aspects of workmen's compensation claims cases.

Under the disability payment measure, minimum payments for total disability would be boosted from $12.50 to $20 a week. The minimum for those earning less than $20 a week at the time of disability would go from $6.75 to $10 a week.

The maximum sum paid over a 700-week period to totally disabled employees would be increased from $12,500 to $20,000. In the case of death of the worker, payments to his dependents would be increased all down the line.

A widow or widower would be paid $18 a week in comparison to the present $15, with additional funds paid for children.

Payments for a single child survivor would be increased from $8.75 to $10.50 a week, increasing for each additional child to a total of $30 a week for six or more children. The present payment is $25.

Payments to totally dependent parents would go from $13.75 to $16.50 a week, while weekly payments to partially dependent parents of the deceased worker would drop from $17.50 to $9.

Other Provisions
Disability and death resulting from silicosis, anthracosis and asbestosis could bring a maximum payment of $6,500. The present maximum is $5,000.

In cases where one of these diseases combined with tuberculosis causes total disability or death, maximum compensation would be payable.

Where the disability arises after an exposure of five years, provisions are extended for commonwealth contributions toward payment of compensation in occupation disease deaths.

The employer would pay 60 percent and the commonwealth 40 percent after Sept. 30 of this year. Under existing law the employer is required to assume complete liability for disability beginning after Oct. 1.

Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)—The House today considered a bill which would end direct election of delegates-at-large to the Republican and Democratic national conventions.

The measure which the Senate unanimously approved last night authorized state committees of each party to select delegates-at-large

TRUCK WEIGHTS
AND PENALTIES
ARE INCREASED

Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)—Legislation increasing truck weight limits in Pennsylvania and boosting penalties for overloading has been passed by the General Assembly.

The bill was sent to Gov. John S. Fine last night after Senate acceptance of minor House amendments to the controversial measure. The Senate vote was 31 to 18. It has been held up in the Senate since last August.

Fine has indicated he will call a public hearing before acting on the bill.

Climaxes Long Fight

It would increase maximum weight loads on commonly used large truck from 45,000 pounds to 60,000 pounds. They have two axles on the rear of the trailer section of the truck. The load weight limit for single axle semi-trailers would go up from 45,000 pounds to 48,000 pounds.

The vote climaxed a long fight for increased weight limits by the trucking industry. The bill was passed over strong opposition by the railroads, motor clubs, some far and labor groups and borough organizations.

The Senate killed a similar bill in 1949 after it had passed the House. This time the measure was introduced in the Senate.

Effective At Once

Discarded is the previous flat $50 fine for overloading and in its place a $100 fine plus $2 for each 100 pounds over excess weight. A local peace officer may put up for public sale any truck whose owner or operator fails to pay within 10 days any fine imposed for violation.

Provisions of the bill affecting weight limits would be come effective immediately. But other regulations governing mechanical safety measures with regard to truck equipment would not become effective until 1953.

The House amendments to the measure revise license fees upward by amounts ranging from $7 to $14 depending on the type vehicle, and also establish additional safeguards to insure payment of overload violations.

Tin Mission Stirs
Interest In Malaya

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP)—The announcement that a United States tin mission is coming to Malaya to study the industry here has aroused speculation about possible renewal of Anglo-U. S. negotiations for a tin agreement.

Tin men here say such an agreement would be acceptable to the Malayan mining industry if it is spread over a period of 3 to 5 years and carries a U. S. guarantee for a fixed price that is economic for Malaya.

The American group includes Gen. Tom Wilson, of the General Services Administration; Spencer Shannon and George Esuvar, of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; Charles Merrill, of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, and Harlan Bramble of the U. S. State Department.

WORDY COUPLE

Chester town, Md. (AP)—Last year Gene Sullivan won the Kent County Farm Bureau's annual speech contest, and could rub his wife about the old saw: "The woman always has the last word." So what happens—this year Mrs. Sullivan wins the same contest.

providing committee rules are revised to permit. Delegates-at-large previously have been chosen by voters directly at the ballot box.

DOUBT STEEL STRIKE JAN. 1 IS AVOIDABLE

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—High-level government talks in the ominous steel dispute started today but officials were suddenly doubtful that a New Year's day strike of workers can be avoided.

The change in attitude became apparent as representatives of major steel firms gathered for negotiations with CIO President Philip Murray. The talks were arranged by Cyrus S. Ching, the government's ace labor trouble-shooter.

Murray has called the walkout for midnight December 31, when present contracts expire. He is demanding a 15-cent hourly pay boost and other concessions for his million-member steelworkers union. The workers presently average just under $2 an hour in earnings, including overtime.

Until the past few days government experts and steel industry spokesmen felt the threatened walkout could be avoided somehow, by a settlement or at least a strike postponement.

Now they feel quite differently. They say privately, as Murray said publicly last Monday, that a strike in the vital metal-producing industry seems inevitable.

Several developments are responsible for this reversal in appraising the situation. One is that Murray apparently has ruled out in advance the idea of bowing to a personal appeal from President Truman to cancel the strike order, or to relay it. Murray said categorically his men won't work without contracts after present agreements expire.

Egged On By Lewis
Secondly, John L. Lewis, the coal miners' union chief who was once Murray's closest crony, has publicly cheered Murray on. Lewis told a packed news conference yesterday that the steelworkers deserve a raise and the steel industry ought to grant one.

Moreover, Lewis offered help to the steelworkers, without saying exactly what sort of help, in case the threatened steel strike comes off. The Lewis comments, it is felt, put Murray in the position of being egged on by a top fellow labor leader, making it all the harder for Murray to retreat.

The idea that a steel strike, even though it may be only a short one, is in the cards was also bolstered by Murray's action in calling a special union convention for January 3 at Atlantic City. This would enable the steelworkers union itself, rather than Murray as an individual, to take the responsibility for ending or continuing the strike, presuming that it will have started New Year's day.

The Duke basketball team will play 16 Southern conference foes and will be at home for 13 of the 24 games scheduled for regular season play.

SANTA and the MAGIC MIRROR

by LUCRECE HUDGINS

When Winnie the Witch Rose from Staring into the Frozen Pond, Her Face Was Beaming.

SYNOPSIS: Santa wants to take the children to see Winnie the Witch but he is so busy he has to send Tweedledees with them instead. But Winnie refuses to give them a piece of ice from her pond and Tweedledees jumps on the pond trying to break off a piece. The witch places Tweedledees inside a piece of ice and holds him prisoner. She tells Belinda she will free him if they will bring her the seven heads of the Horrible Hoblins.

Chapter 15
THE DRESS
Belinda and Tommy returned to Santa Land and told Santa the fearful fate of Patrick Tweedledees. "Can you do something?" Belinda asked Santa. "Maybe you can get me to trade Tweedledees for me. I'm the one who has caused it all."

Santa smiled gently. "I was wondering if we couldn't get Winnie to look at her own reflection in the ice."

"She'd never do it," declared Tommy. "She even wears dark glasses to protect herself."

"And she wears rags? And never combs her hair? No wonder she doesn't care to see herself. But suppose she were to have a beautiful new dress. What then?"

Belinda clapped her hands happily. "Why, she'd just have to see herself in a mirror!"

"Oh, joy!" cried the little workers. "That is what she would surely do!"

So, singing and laughing, the Santa Land folk set to work making a dress for Winnie the Witen. When it was finished it was surely the most beautiful dress ever made. Belinda touched it lovingly. "I can hardly bear it," she whispered. "Just to look at it puts valentines in my heart."

"Now let's wrap it up," said Santa cheerfully. "Here's a box," said Mrs. Claus. She pulled out the box that had held the red flannel night gown which the Horrible Hoblins had sent Santa for Christmas.

Then Tommy took the box and the children started for the sled. But, at this very moment, the earth rumbled and shook, and the seven Horrible Hoblins strode into Santa Land.

"We've come to get back our present!" shouted - the gnat. "From now on we are your enemies."

Belinda and Tommy jumped on the sled and started away. "Come in," said Santa to the giants. "I'll return your present."

But, the giants had seen the red striped box with golden ribbons in Tommy's hands. They thought he had the red flannel night gown.

"It's a trick!" shouted the giants. "The children have the box! We'll take them along with the present!"

Before Santa could show them the flannel gown which he had rushed in the house to get, the giants took off after Belinda and Tommy. Santa's sled went faster than the giants could travel though they had their own magic ways. The children could hear them rumbling far behind as they sped to the Frozen Pond.

"You were quick," said Winnie the Witch taking the box from Tommy. "But this is certainly a small box to hold seven heads of seven giants." "This is a separate present," said Tommy. "The seven heads are coming. You can hear them now. You see the seven heads are still attached to the seven bodies."

"All the better," said Winnie. "Now, what have we here?" She opened the box. The beautiful dress spilled out. The witch stared at it.

"Try it on!" urged Belinda desperately. She could hear the giants coming closer.

Slowly Winnie drew off her rags and stepped into the glorious gown. "Hmmp!" she said.

"Oh, if you could see yourself!" cried Belinda.

"Hmmp!" said Winnie uncertainly.

"What a beauty you are!" cried Tommy.

Then the children caught their breath for the witch took off her glasses and moved slowly to the Frozen Pond. She leaned over the edge and stared for a long, long moment at her reflection in the ice.

When she rose her face was beaming. At this moment the seven giants arrived. With a shout they surrounded Belinda and Tommy but even as they lay their angry hands on the children Winnie the witch called to them.

"Come," she said sweetly. "Look into my mirror."

A. Y. VISHINSKY AGAIN ATTACKS UNITED STATES

Paris, Dec. 20 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded today that the United Nations label the United States' mutual security law an act of aggression against the Soviet Union. Moscow charges the law authorizes the U. S. to support anti-Kremlin plotters on Soviet soil.

Soviet timing aroused speculation, in view of Moscow's report today that two men were executed as spies after having been parachuted to Soviet soil from an American plane.

The Soviet Union placed formally before the U.N. political committee its resolution demanding that the U.N. request the U. S. to repeal the mutual security law. Debate began at once.

Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) denied that the U. S. would ever commit aggression against any country. He countered with a charge that Soviet interference in other countries' affairs was one of the chief causes of world contention. Mansfield is a member of the House Foreign Affairs committee which considered the mutual security act.

Mansfield said the Soviet charges resulted from a deliberate misinterpretation of one amendment to the mutual security act, the larger part of which was devoted to setting up a 7½ billion dollar economic and military aid program for the free world.

The section of the law on which Vishinsky based his resolution authorizes the President to spend up to 500 million dollars to organize refugees from Iron Curtain countries into "elements of the military forces supporting the North Atlantic treaty organizations."

The Soviet Foreign Minister said this was "an unprecedented violation of international law," that it must be assessed as "an aggressive act" and a "gross intervention into the external affairs of the Soviet Union."

U. S. ANSWERS RUSS PROTEST

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—The United States has sharply told Russia that its own "aggressive actions" and its "subversion" against middle Eastern states are to blame for Allied plans to create a Middle East military command.

Replying to a Soviet protest of November 24 against the Allied project, the U. S. cited once-secret negotiations between the Soviet and Nazi Germany governments in 1940 as evidence of a Russian aim to create a Red sphere of influence in the Middle East.

The U. S. note, made public today, added that Russia's attitude toward that area since the end of World War II has led the American government to assume that the aims set forth 11 years ago "remain the policy of the Soviet government."

Britain, France and Turkey, which had simultaneously received Russian protests against the command which they are sponsoring jointly with this country, also rejected the Soviet complaint in notes delivered to the foreign ministry in Moscow yesterday, State Department officials said.

London, Dec. 20 (AP)—A state-owned truck sideswiped a British royal car Tuesday while Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret were on a Christmas shopping expedition.

The car was waiting outside a downtown shop for the Queen and Princess when the crash occurred. The truck, belonging to the Nationalized British Road Services, dented the left front fender of the royal automobile.

John Adams was the first President to occupy the White House.

The annual Christmas party of the Hustlers' Sunday school class of Redemptor's Reformed church was held in connection with the December meeting on Monday evening in the social room of the church with 25 members, one visitor and the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, in attendance. Prior to the program and business discussion, refreshments were served by the December committee composed of Mrs. Ralph Staley, chairman, Mrs. Arthur Staley, Mrs. Monroe J. Staley and

Mrs. Melvin B. Wehler. The program was in charge of Mrs. Staley and opened with the Apostles' creed repeated in unison. Christmas carols were sung by the group accompanied on the piano by Miss Louise Duttrier. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Monroe Staley followed with prayer offered by the Rev. Mr. Reynolds. A poem, "There Will Always be a Christmas," was read by Mrs. Melvin Wehler.

The class president, Mrs. Hazel Hess, presided at the business session. The guess package was contributed by Mrs. Richard Hartlaub and was received by Mrs. Donald G. Garner. It was announced that the members will hand in the birthday money at the next meeting, Monday, January 21, at the church. The January entertainment and refreshment committee was appointed as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Theron W.

Spangler, Mrs. Frank E. Reynolds and Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker. An exchange of gifts took place and secret sisters were revealed followed with the selection of new sisters for 1952. Theron W. Spangler is the class teacher.

The members of Intermediate Girl Scout Troop No. 34 enjoyed a Christmas party on Monday afternoon at the home of the troop leader, Mrs. Carroll E. Arter, West King street. Christmas games were enjoyed by the group and an exchange of gifts took place. Each member of the troop brought a surprise refreshment package. Assisting the leader with the party was the troop aide, Mrs. Alvina Groff. Those in attendance were Judith Breighner, Janice Breighner, Joyce Breighner, Mary Gail Gouker, Julie Ann Kammerer, Betty Wallick, Janet Ripka, Patricia Yingling, Judy Long, Janet Koontz, Shirley Chronister, Janet Sell, Susan Strevig, Miss Groff and Mrs. Arter.

Members of the Sunday school of St. James Reformed church, along the Harney road, who are participating in the Christmas program to be presented on Sunday evening, will have rehearsal this evening at 7 o'clock.

Approximately 150 persons were in attendance at the annual Christmas party for the children of St. Mary's Reformed church Silver Run, on Sunday afternoon in the social hall of the church. A program was presented as follows: A piano prelude, Mrs. E. Flickinger; group song, "There's A Song in the Air"; recitation, "The Night Before Christmas," Martha Humbert; recitation, Myron Duttrier; kazoo solo, Neal Leister; recitation, Stephen Duttrier; songs, children of the Sunday school department, led by Mrs. Edward H. The program was arranged by a committee composed of Mrs. Herbert E. Myers, chairman; Mrs. Lynn E. Flickinger and Mrs. Guy D. Koontz. Santa Claus arrived to present each child with a treat from the Sunday school. The children then returned to their individual Sunday school classes to exchange gifts with the teachers. Refreshments were served to the group by the committee composed of Mrs. Stanley Horner, chairman; Mrs. David S. Little and Mrs. Cyril Groff. The committee in charge of securing the treats consisted of Mrs. James Duttrier, chairman; Mrs. Alvin G. Duttrier, Jr., and Mrs. Edward H. Leister.

London, Dec. 20 (AP)—A fact-finding team that visited the United States reported today that the state-operated British coal industry could use some of the get-up-and-go it found in the U. S.

"We should like to see injected into the British industry the sense of adventurous urgency which characterizes the American attitude toward development, and is found in management and men alike," is the way the report put it.

Baylor beat Texas, 28-10, in the first football game played in the Longhorns' Memorial stadium back in 1924. But since that day the Bears have won only four of 14 games there.

A. Y. VISHINSKY AGAIN ATTACKS UNITED STATES

Paris, Dec. 20 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky demanded today that the United Nations label the United States' mutual security law an act of aggression against the Soviet Union. Moscow charges the law authorizes the U. S. to support anti-Kremlin plotters on Soviet soil.

Soviet timing aroused speculation, in view of Moscow's report today that two men were executed as spies after having been parachuted to Soviet soil from an American plane.

The Soviet Union placed formally before the U.N. political committee its resolution demanding that the U.N. request the U. S. to repeal the mutual security law. Debate began at once.

Rep. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) denied that the U. S. would ever commit aggression against any country. He countered with a charge that Soviet interference in other countries' affairs was one of the chief causes of world contention. Mansfield is a member of the House Foreign Affairs committee which considered the mutual security act.

Mansfield said the Soviet charges resulted from a deliberate misinterpretation of one amendment to the mutual security act, the larger part of which was devoted to setting up a 7½ billion dollar economic and military aid program for the free world.

The section of the law on which Vishinsky based his resolution authorizes the President to spend up to 100 million dollars to organize refugees from Iron Curtain countries into "elements of the military forces supporting the North Atlantic treaty organizations."

The Soviet Foreign Minister said this was "an unprecedented violation of international law," that it must be assessed as "an aggressive act" and a "gross intervention into the external affairs of the Soviet Union."

BUSY STUDENT ENROLLED IN TWO COLLEGES

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 20 (AP) — Husky, black-haired Bob Starr has been given the boot by Memphis State college—but not for the usual reasons.

No college pranks, no flunked courses. It merely developed that Starr was burning the candle at both ends and in the middle. He was simultaneously:

Enrolled in both Memphis State and Southwestern college, taking a tough course of study at each and making top grades.

Sports editor of both college annuals.

Columbian on both college newspapers.

Sunday night news writer.

Sports writer (prep basketball games) for the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Is Writing Novel

Prospective author of a novel, already fully outlined.

The 23-year-old father of two children also found time during the first semester of his double enrollment to work 48 hours a week at an ice cream plant.

Flabbergasted Memphis State authorities told Starr such goings-on were contrary to college policy.

So Starr, a graduate of Pine Bluff high school, chose Southwestern, which he attends under the GI Bill of Rights. He was paying his way through Memphis State.

Wants More Work

How did he do it? Starr says he owes it all to his wife, Norma, and his motorcycle. Norma cares for the children. The motorcycle gets him places on a split-second schedule.

As to the immediate future, Starr glumly said last night:

"I've got to find something to do on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday now that I'm leaving Memphis State. I'd go crazy with all that time on my hands."

He added: "I get nervous and unhappy when I'm not busy."

A Christmas party was held Sunday evening at the social rooms of Paradise Catholic church for parishioners and their guests. The hostesses were the National Council of Catholic Women.

A number of local children were entertained by Richard J. Gross Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Saturday afternoon at the auditorium of the local high school where the Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—Word has gone out from the White House that President Truman won't like it if a Federal employee takes a Christmas present—or any other kind of present—from anybody with an axe to grind with the government.

Mr. Truman made this known in an around the corner sort of way, without issuing any specific orders. And the White House maintained its six day long silence on when the President will announce the drastic action he has promised to rid his administration of any remaining wrongdoers.

Mr. Truman spoke out on the gift matter in a letter, made public late Tuesday to Raymond H. Foley, Federal Housing Administrator, who had told the President about his agency's own efforts to keep influence peddlers at arm's length.

"I think the policy you have set out with respect to the acceptance of gifts by employees is a wise one, and I believe that this is the correct policy for all the government," the scouts whose names they had drawn at a previous meeting. The room was decorated with Christmas greens which had been gathered by the girls.

The fire hall was the site of the regular meeting December 12 of the local Lions club who planned further activities to aid their Community Betterment fund.

SPOTTY RETAIL BUSINESS FOUND

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—How's Christmas business? "Just fine. As good or better than last year," some merchants report. "Frankly lousy," say others.

Those are some of the opinions turned up by an Associated Press survey of Christmas shopping trends in 23 major retail areas across the nation.

Most retailers are confident of increased dollar sales. But there's plenty of talk, too, about customers being a lot more choosy than they were a year ago. And there is some talk of consumer price resistance.

Higher prices will probably account for a good part of any increase in dollar volume over last Christmas, many merchants say. This despite the fact that prices in some lines of merchandise have been drastically marked down in an effort to prod reluctant buyers.

The pattern of retail opinion is spotty. Q. F. Walker, chief economist for Macy's New York, finds the volume of Christmas sales thus far "less favorable than expected." A spokesman for Gimbels in Philadelphia reports: "Business is terrific, better than most years, but not quite as good as last year which was exceptional."

It is generally agreed that profits will be lower, mostly because of reduced markups and the higher cost of doing business. In some instances brisk sales are being achieved only because of "give-away" prices or costly advertising and promotion.

LAW-OFFICER BY-PASSED IN FEDERAL PROBE

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—The U. S. now has the extraordinary picture of the Attorney General by-passed and ignored in one of the most critical situations involving the Justice department in a generation.

That was the investigation of T. Lamar Caudle, assistant Attorney General, by a House subcommittee and by the Truman administration itself. The President fired Caudle.

This picture is not a guess. It clearly emerges simply by putting together statements by the President and Attorney General J. Howard McGrath who, as had of the Justice department, is a member of the President's cabinet.

The story behind the picture starts when the House subcommittee investigating the tax scandals began investigating Caudle, who was in charge of the Justice department's tax division.

McGrath Liked Caudle
Right in the midst of this Congressional investigation the President fired Caudle from under McGrath's nose. Then the committee, checking further, said Caudle had damaged his country and been a failure as a public official.

Digging deeper into Caudle's activities, the committee questioned McGrath who, any time he pleases, can put the whole machinery of the FBI to work on any case, since the FBI comes under the Justice department.

McGrath told the committee:
1. He never had doubts about Caudle, and never saw any reason to have them, until after the committee had begun investigating Caudle.

2. He had always considered Caudle a good man in his job.

3. Whatever it was the committee found out about Caudle—when it began its investigation—McGrath wasn't told. It was the President who got the news and fired Caudle simply by telling McGrath he was going to.

McGrath made those statements this week. They were a plain admission he was by-passed on critical information involving one of the key men in his department.

Had Probed Caudle
But Wednesday the President told a news conference Caudle had been under investigation by the executive branch of the government before his name turned up in the congressional investigation.

The President said the Truman administration was wise to Caudle long before the committee checked on him and that Caudle would have been fired even if the committee had not stepped in.

What the President left unexplained was this:
Just who in the Truman administration was wise to Caudle before the committee went to work on him? Certainly not McGrath who only two days before said he had no doubts of Caudle till the committee's work began.

But since the President said the administration's investigation had begun before the committee's, why wasn't McGrath told? No one could have had more interest, or a bigger stake, in such an investigation than McGrath.

And why didn't the administration act before the committee started its work?

And who made the investigation for the administration?
Caudle a little about all this, the President said he doesn't keep McGrath's books. He also said he has no plans to fire McGrath.

Wife Pays To Get Rid Of Her Husband

Chicago, Dec. 20 (AP)—A wife agreed in circuit court yesterday to pay $10 weekly alimony to her husband until he gets a job.

Mrs. Frieda Cupper, 31, made the offer after her husband, John, 39, was brought into court for failing to observe a court injunction against molesting her.

Mrs. Cupper, who has a divorce suit pending charging cruelty, said she did not want to send her husband to jail for contempt. And, she said, she didn't want to let him continue living at the Cupper home. She offered the alimony so Cupper could live elsewhere.

"That is more than fair," said Judge John T. Dempsey as he entered the order—the first he had ever signed directing a woman to pay alimony.

Form Is Used For POW Notifications

Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—The Defense department has made available a sample notification to be used in advising relatives that their fighting men in Korea are listed by the enemy as prisoners of war.

The notification says:
"The secretary of the army has asked me to inform you that the name (Doe, John J.) believed to be that of your (son, husband, etc.) is included in unverified list released by opposing forces of prisoners in their custody. No assurance as to accuracy can be given at this time. You will be advised as soon as possible without request on your part when names are verified.

"Signed
"William E. Bergin, Maj. Gen., U.S.A., the adjutant general of the army."

Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)—A proposal to increase pensions for blind persons in Pennsylvania from $40 to $50 a month is before the House today. The bill unanimously approved last night by the Senate would apply to those receiving an income of no more than $1,716 a year and owning real estate or other property assessed at no more than $5,000.

Life in the Sudan of Africa away from the few urban centers is primitive. Nomadic or semi-nomadic, the people are largely dependent on subsistence crops and livestock.

The New York football Giants of 1927 allowed 13 opponents a total of 20 points, a record that stands today.

The Florida Gators used a total of 68 players in their first seven football games this season.

800 CHILDREN ARE EXPECTED AT CELEBRATION

Approximately 800 children and almost as many adults are expected to be on hand Monday, the day before Christmas, when Emmitsburg will go all-out again in another Community Christmas celebration.

The annual affair which began in Emmitsburg about 25 years ago has grown in popularity and success from year to year until expectations are that Monday's will be the "biggest and best" party ever. This year's celebration is being sponsored again by the Lions. C. A. Elder is president of the club, and George L. Wilhide is general chairman of the affair.

The program will include a free movie for the children by the courtesy of the Gem theater at 10 a.m.; free lunch served at the Fire hall at noon by the Emmitsburg Women's club and the wives of the Lions club members.

Santa Claus Coming

Clarence Hahn has received word from Santa that he will arrive in town around 2 p.m. to greet all the children and distribute candy and oranges to them at Center square. The Emmitsburg band is scheduled to be on hand to escort Santa and provide music for the celebration. The community observance will continue into the evening and night with special church services including the Sunday school Christmas service at the Reformed church, Rev. Edmund Welker, pastor, at 7:30 o'clock; the traditional candle-lighting Christmas Eve service at the Lutheran church from 11 to midnight and the Christmas midnight mass at St. Joseph's Catholic church beginning at 12 midnight.

The stores of Emmitsburg will be open all day and Monday night.

You can help them get home for Christmas—

BY LONG DISTANCE!

Give Service men and women a break by making your Holiday calls before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day

This year, thousands of Service people will be spending Christmas away from home—many of them for the first time. And, of course, they'll be looking forward to calling their families and friends—by Long Distance.

This will mean a tremendous number of calls to be carried by Long Distance lines already crowded by the demands of National Defense. But each of us can do a lot to help out by remembering to make Long Distance calls before Christmas Eve or after Christmas Day.

You'll get better service, too, for your calls will go through much more quickly. And you'll get even faster service if you place your calls by number.

Cpl. Thomas Sanders, U. S. Army, returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, after serving 13 months overseas in Korea. Upon arriving in the states he was hospitalized in Seattle, Wash., before coming home. His brother, Sgt. 1st Class Marshall Sanders, arrived home several weeks ago from Korea.

Says Women Need Plenty Of Exercise

Singapore (P)—K. S. Lee, a Hong Kong physical culturist, doesn't think much of the women in Singapore. "Singapore women's hips, legs and ankles are...ugh. And what's more, they don't walk gracefully," he told newsmen here. But he had a good word, too. Singapore women, he said, "are kinder, more charming, simple and sincere than Hong Kong women."

About Singapore men, Lee asserted, "There's room for improvement." He suggested what they need is more and better equipped gymnasiums and plenty of exercise.

Emmitsburg, Md.

SAYS LARCENY NOT EXCLUSIVE TO GOVERNMENT

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Dec. 20 (AP)—Before public interest in the government scandals subsides there will be more investigations and, probably, more irregularities exposed.

But the interest, public shock, investigations and exposures will be a farcical short-time result unless steps are taken to make future crookedness tougher.

President Truman said he'll try to make it harder for government employees to have outside interests. That should help, by cutting off some of the avenues that lead to crookedness or "indiscretions."

But making crookedness more difficult won't keep crooks out, no matter whether Democrats or Republicans are in the saddle, since government employees are recruited from the general population and a certain percentage of the population is full of larceny.

Many "Good" Crooks
The shenanigans of racketeers get headlines—never failing to horrify the general public—but the racketeers are only a small percentage of the crooks that are loose.

Government attorneys who handle tax cases, for instance, will show you that the overwhelming percentage of tax frauds are committed by people who have been considered pillars of their community.

In the past year a special committee of the Senate was set up under Senator Douglas, Illinois Democrat, to study the problem of ethics in government and it reported:

"No group in society is in a position to point the finger of scorn at others. Influence peddlers can exist only as long as businessmen or others are willing to patronize them."

In the past Congress could have tightened the laws to keep employees of the government on the straight and narrow. It may do something in that direction as a result of the present disclosures.

Congressmen Reticent
Several months ago subcommittee investigating the tax scandals requested that all employees of the Internal Revenue Bureau be ordered to fill out a questionnaire showing all their income. This was done.

But members of Congress themselves have shown remarkable lethargy in disclosing their income or its sources.

If the public could see a list of congressmen's income it would be able to tell a little better—after a member of Congress plugged for or opposed a certain bill—whether he had any personal interest in it or stood to lose or benefit, depending on whether it passed or didn't.

The "red shift," which is a difference in the spectroscopic of light from distant stars as compared with light from nearby sources, indicates the universe is exploding, with the stars traveling away from each other at great speeds.

College Grad With State VFW Delegation At Blue-Gray Game

Plans are virtually complete for the Department of Pennsylvania's annual pilgrimage to the "Cradle of the Confederacy" to represent the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at the annual Blue-Gray Memorial football game, at Montgomery, Alabama, December 29.

Led by the state commander, James J. Davis, Philadelphia attorney, and his staff, the Pennsylvania delegation will leave Harrisburg on December 28, in two special planes.

The Longshoremen's Drum and Bugle Corps, national open class champions, from Wormleysburg, opposite this city, will furnish the North's music between the halves of the North-South classic that is annually played on the last Saturday of December.

Frank C. Hilton, Reading, commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Hugh H. Hoke, Schuylkill Haven, senior vice commander, graduate of Gettysburg college and brother of Swartz Hoke, Barlow street; Elmer D. Christine, E. Stroudsburg; C. A. Gnaul, Harrisburg, state adjutant; Woody Wolf, Williamsport, chairman of the VFW's Blue-Gray national committee, and many others will make the pilgrimage.

This year marks the second that

Pennsylvania has sent a delegation to the "Cradle of the Confederacy" from where Jefferson Davis ordered the assault on Fort Sumter.

The Pennsylvania idea is spreading nationally through the Veterans of Foreign Wars to cement more closely the relations between the North and the South and to build more solidly a "United America."

"With Gettysburg battlefield within our borders, with all that the hallowed ground symbolizes," State Commander Davis said, "it is fitting that Pennsylvania should lead in creating and perpetuating closer ties with the South. The Blue-Gray game offers that unique opportunity."

Traffic in skins for fur-conscious Europe was an important commercial factor in settling the entire North American wilderness from Labrador to Mexico.

Posthumous Medal For Reading Marine

Reading, Pa., Dec. 20 (AP)—The Silver Star medal was awarded posthumously to Pfc. Donald Englehart, 21, USMC, in ceremonies at his parents' home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Englehart received the award from Maj. Clark Morrow of the Philadelphia Marine Recruiting District. Their son was killed in Korea October 27.

The citation said Englehart, by his gallantry and persistence, aided outnumbered American troops to rally and repulse a Red attack.

"DEAD ISSUE"
Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)—A House committee has voted 14 to 6 to kill a bill exempting non-residents from Philadelphia's 1 1/2 percent wage tax. "It's a dead issue until 1953," said

Chairman Cornelius J. Loftus (R-Philadelphia) of the House municipal corporations committee yesterday. The Senate-approved bill would have allowed residents of adjacent counties to work in Philadelphia without paying the tax.

SAYS GENERAL DEAN EVADED REDS 33 DAYS

Seoul, Korea, Dec. 20 (AP)—A friendly source that cannot be named today said Maj. Gen. William F. Dean evaded North Korean Reds for 33 days after the fall of Taejon.

Dean's name is on the Reds' list of prisoners of war. He had been carried on U.S. Defense Department records as missing in action.

Dean was reported searching for stragglers from his 24th Division shortly after the Reds overran Taejon July 19, 1950.

The source said that before the general was captured he hid by day and traveled by night, always walking along ridgelines toward the south. He circled all settlements and kept well off the roads.

Eventually he reached Chinan, 37 air miles south of Taejon.

He was weary, undernourished and ill.

He asked for food at a house on the edge of Chinan. A Communist group in the vicinity picked him up and took him north as a prisoner. Dean had discarded all identifica-

East Berlin Youth Gets Hi-Y Office

Jacque Hoffman, a member of the Hi-Y club of East Berlin high school, was elected president of the South Central District Older Boys' conference at Carlisle recently.

Other officers of the conference include Richard Smith, Carlisle, first vice president; James Kauffman, Lancaster, and Robert Knisley, Lebanon, second vice presidents.

tion. It is possible, the source said, that the Reds did not soon realize they held a two-star general.

The source said most of these details came from a Red captured late last year.

The Red said: He had served as Dean's interpreter. The general was once held at Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, but later was transferred to a camp about 15 miles north.

The Reds listed Dean at Camp Six, believed to be in Pyongyang.

Another report said Dean had been held in the Suwon area, south of Seoul, before the Inchon landings in September, 1950.

Dean's 24th Division was the first United Nations unit to reach Korea after the Red invasion on June 25, 1950.

Clerical Error In Account; Suicides

Lock Haven, Pa., Dec. 20 (AP)—David Irwin, 65, was found hanged in a shed in nearby Flemington yesterday. Clinton County Coroner Doris E. Kissell listed the case as a suicide.

Irwin had been despondent, Chief of Police Lester Moore said, since a clerical error in his Social Security account made it necessary for Irwin to return money he received from the government. Irwin moved to this area from Sandy Ridge near Tyrone.

In 1928 the Boston Braves played nine successive double headers. That is a major league record.

LOYALTY OATH BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE 167-18

Harrisburg, Dec. 20 (AP)—A bill requiring a loyalty oath by state, county and municipal employees neared the end of the legislative trail today after months of wrangling.

The controversial measure passed the House last night, 167-18. It went back to the Senate for agreement on extensive amendments.

Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allentown), Senate Republican floor leader, promised immediate action. "After all those weeks of arguing and amending in the House, the opponents could roundup only 18 votes," Walker told a newsman. "We're going to push it."

Pechan Dubious
Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong), sponsor of the bill, however, appeared a bit dubious about some changes the House had made to the measure which passed the Senate March 28 with only seven dissenting votes.

"It is a stronger bill now than when it was in the Senate before," said Pechan. "But it is not as strong as I wanted it to be."

Public employees, including teachers, would vow that they are not members of a subversive organization or are subversive themselves.

If an employee is found to be subversive, he may be fired. The dismissed person then would have the right to appeal to the state Superintendent of Public Instruction or the state Civil Service Commission. If the accused person is not under civil service he would appeal to the county court.

No "Thought Control"

Any person taking the oath who is found to be subversive can be charged with perjury. If convicted he would be subject to perjury penalties of up to one year in prison. Rep. Albert S. Readinger (Berks), sponsor of the latest series of amendments, denied last night the bill will set up "thought control" over school children.

"There is nothing in the bill which will prevent a teacher from teaching anything he honestly believes to be for the good of the American children," he said.
